How Busy Can You Get Department: The other morning when we called Bob White about a story or two that was brewing he didn't seem to coordinate his remarks with the subject at hand. We found him at home and asked to speak to his good wife Irene, after Bob told us nothing about nothing. Upon being asked about Bob's haze she told us the story of Bob and his beloved hash brown potatoes for breakfast.

Bob loves them she said. The other morning he came in and delighted at the sight of the deliciously browned spuds and commented that he was glad to have them that morning.

Taking his remark in her calm stride, Irene politely reminded him that he had had potatoes on the table every morning for the past many weeks. Bob had been eating them too, but then his mind is not always on such small potatoes as spuds.

If you haven't followed the fortunes of the Fulton Roaders baseball team in the Kitty league this season, you have missed some of the most consistently exciting and well-played baseball seen around Fulton in years.

Only twenty days remain of the current season... so if you haven't seen much baseball in Fulton this year, you still have time to join the home gang and watch what has all the earmarks of being a breath-taking race for the playoffs and the pennant.

This is one of those exciting years where one team has been unable to outdistance the other... you're in first place today, lost a couple of games and bang! you're down to fifth. Then you spend about a week of hard plugging and you're back up at the top.

It's a hot race. If you're missing it, don't say we didn't tell you!

Here's the schedule for the rest of the season; clip it, carry it with you and don't miss a game.

Tonite: Union City, here. Sat.-Sun. at Union City. Mon., Tues., Wed., Cairo, here. Thurs., Fri., Sat., Mayfield here. Aug. 20-21-22, at Cairo. Aug. 23-24-25 at Mayfield. Aug. 26-27, Union City, here. Aug. 28-29 at Union City (Season closes August 29th).

It seems a shame that there are grown men and women in Fulton who accept the responsibility for driving automobiles without learning the most elementary rules of driving: the hand-and-arm signals... yet we meet them every day.

Last Wednesday morning, out by Riceville, the driver of the Buick sedan ahead of us hung his arm out the window, hand down, for the "slow-down" signal; then, arriving at a crossroad, swerved sharply across the street in front of us to make a left-hand turn.

If we had been one of these 10-ton truckloads of stuff that are on the roads here day and night, and had exercised less caution, we would have probably smeared his nice Buick all over the highway.

To indicate a left-hand turn to the driver behind you, you must extend your arm and hand straight out the window, parallel to the road. Knowing what you are about to do, he can't pass you; he's got to slow down. If you are going to make a right-hand turn, stick your arm out the window and bend it at the elbow so your hand is straight up. The driver behind you, seeing this signal, feels free to pass you on the left.

Woe be unto you if you get your signals crossed, or fail to signal at all.

They're such simple rules... and, properly given, they save you lots of broken bones and smashed-up autos. Remember that the driver behind you is no mind reader!

Clements, Dawson, Brady Win Easily in Dull Primary

Gov. Earle C. Clements, Democrat, and former Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson, Republican won their party nominations for the U. S. Senate with ease in Kentucky's primaries Saturday.

Neither nominee appeared surprised at victory Saturday. Throughout the unusually quiet primary campaign they had been considered certain winners by veteran observers.

Both indicated campaigns for the November general election which would stir up interest more typical of Kentucky's traditionally hot political scene.

Actually, the 53-year-old Clements and 69-year-old Dawson each won two races in light balloting today. They received nominations for the short Senate term running from November to January and for the six-year term starting in 1951.

The complete vote in the county gave Clements 448 (for the regular term), and 514 (for the unexpired term). In the same race, Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher, received 195 and 198; James L. Delk, 18 and 17; and Dennis E. McQuay, Lexington lawyer, 12 and 11.

Former Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson, Republican, won his party nomination for the U. S. Senate. In Fulton County he received 27 and 28 votes. His opponents were James William Brown, who received two votes for the regular term of office, Charles E. Whittle one vote (regular), and two votes (unexpired term); and Finley Thomas, none (regular).

Judge Brady M. Stewart of Paducah received 478 votes in the county in his race with Judge Ira D. Smith of Hopkinsville, for Democratic nomination to the Court of Appeals. Smith received 155 votes in the county.

Buy A Share Of Leisure!

The story of the proposed new clubhouse for the Fulton Country Club brought home a story that would put Mark Twain to shame. It was old Mark, you know, who said: "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it."

For a time it was that way with the clubhouse for the Country Club. Everybody talked it, and hoped it could be done, but it was like Mark Twain and his weather... nobody did anything about it.

It remained for a hand full of local men, spearheaded by Bob White to get together and say: "Look here, other towns have done it, why can't we."

And that's the way it is today. Next Tuesday and Wednesday a committee composed of Mr. White, William McDade, Warren Johnson and Ernest Fall, Jr., will start a drive to sell shares in the Woodlawn Land Co. Here's the way it works:

The Woodlawn Land Co., owners of the Country Club grounds, leases their property to the Fulton Country Club. It is therefore their province to make any improvements or installations on the property. But the Woodlawn Land Co. is a stock company and in order to build the clubhouse must sell additional stock to raise the funds for the building. Country Club officials and Woodlawn Land Co. officials have joined hands to get the job done and worked out a plan whereby a member in full standing in the Country Club must first own at least one share of stock in the Woodlawn Land Co., which stock sells for $100 per share.

A share of stock does not mean however, that the buyer is a member of the Country Club, it is only a pre-requisite to joining. Annual Country Club dues must be paid in order to enjoy the facilities of the golf course, tennis course, and the clubhouse.

Mr. White stated last week that if all of his "good prospects" bought stock, nearly $20,000 could be raised. The type of clubhouse depends of course, on the amount of stock sold.

To Messrs. White, McDade, Johnson, and Ernest Fall, Jr., the News wishes a bit of luck in their drive. Here is an opportunity to "follow through" on all the conversation about desperately wanting a clubhouse at the Country Club. What's more, arrangement can be made to borrow the money in order to pay for the stock.

Its a good idea to start making arrangements over the weekend to buy that stock. Mr. White, the land company president, and Mr. Johnson, Country Club president want to make it emphatically known that next year when the golf gets good and the cool veranda at the clubhouse gets inviting, it will be too late to buy the stock.

Here is our chance to get a badly needed job done. Let's do it.

DR. TRINCA IN SPECIAL STUDY

Dr. Peter J. Trinca, director of the Haws Memorial Hospital, is at present doing post-graduate in cancer, with emphasis on surgery at the St. Mary's Infirmary in Louisville, Ky.

Dr. Trinca is doing the special study at the invitation of the hospital and is one of a small number of surgeons in West Kentucky invited to attend the course.

Dr. Trinca spends the week-ends in Fulton, arriving Friday night and leaving Sunday night. Over the week-end he is at his office at the Haws Hospital. Following the course Dr. Trinca will resume his full time practice at the hospital.

Jaco Again Named To Head Easter Seal Drive

Hubert Jaco, 312 Fourth Street, Fulton, has been reappointed chairman of the 1951 Easter Seal campaign for Fulton County, it was revealed this week by Mrs. Viola Morey, executive director of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children.

In making the announcement, Mrs. Morey stated that Mr. Jaco has served as county chairman of the drive for the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton Godfrey and daughter of Lexington, Ky., are visiting his mother, Mrs. L. L. Godfrey and family on Jefferson Street.

HAM ETHERIDGE

"My Boys, the Railroaders"

Another week has passed for the 1950 Kitty League season. With it went a week of bad news for the Fulton Railroaders, and with the bad news, a showing of determination by the boys, that rain or shine, day or night, they are armed with the one thing that it takes to win, determination to stay in there and stick it out.

Ralph Brawner has been removed from the lineup due to an injured knee. Cecil Hubbard has been forced to retire for ten days to two weeks due to a hand injury. With both of these boys out, Fulton has been crippled but the boys who have taken their places are really in there giving it all they have. Ty Brazier has been sent down from the Charlotte club to cover the outfield position that was left open by Brawner. Hubbard's replacement is that young hustling rookie, Milt McEneny. McEneny fights those hot grounders on third base like a fireman at a five-alarm fire, and brother he gets 'em, too.

This just goes to show you that the breaks are not what makes or breaks a baseball club. We will admit that they help, but on the other hand, Fulton has had as many bad breaks this year as any club in organized baseball, but they have fought back, tooth and nail.

Nearly 2000 Attend Picnic, Beef Show At Fairgrounds

At each annual Farm Bureau picnic in Fulton County the crowds get bigger, the people get happier, and the barbecue tastes better. This year all these attractions combined to make the event one of the most successful in the long history of the organization.

Wednesday morning dawned a little gray. Old Jupiter Pluvius was a little undecided the whole morning whether to shower the folks with raindrops or defer to the sun and let it come out and powder the faces of the happy throngs with sunshine. Old Jupiter lost. The sun came out and so did nearly all of the 754 members of the Farm Bureau and their families.

Farm Bureau Day is the time when the Homemakers join together and dish up the finest vittles they know how. Its the day when the farmers put on their straw hats and just mill around and see what's going on. And there was a lot going on.

Members of the 4-H Clubs and the Future Farmers of America showed some of the finest beef calves in the country. Under the direction of County Agent John Watts the members are participating in a cattle-raising program that is bringing recognition to this section of the State. E. A. Waggoner of Cayce and Harold Shaw of Hickman have worked untiringly with the FFA boys.

Principal speaker of the day was O. R. Long, regional director of the National Farm Bureau Federation. Introduced by Farm Bureau President Roy Bard, Mr. Long spoke "man-to-man" to the interested farmers on the necessity for strong unity among farmers to get their share of the Nation's wealth.

"Through the Farm Bureau," he said, "farmers have an opportunity to be heard. Farm people have not had their just share of the Nation's wealth and their only desire is to enjoy a competitive market enjoyed by other large industries."

While not expressing his personal opinion as regards the highly controversial Brannan Plan, Mr. Long said that to segregate farming under a gigantic corporation would destroy the individual initiative of the farmers. "The Farmer is exerting a tremendous influence in the world today and it is an influence for good. What would happen to the farmers if they were put on the line?"

"In America," he continued, "we have the right of choice. If this right is taken away, a Socialistic State will result, and then there would be no need for laws to protect the right of the individual, because there would be no individual rights as such."

Mr. Bard in his introductory remarks strongly urged the necessity of a Farm Bureau and stated that the position of the farmer in today's crisis is critical.

Its Not Inflation When E. W. James Pays Top Beef Price

Inflation? No, just admiration, that's the way E. W. James, of Hickman feels about Ermon Workman's Grand Champion calf. At the Beef Calf Show and Sale held Wednesday in connection with the annual Farm Bureau picnic here Mr. James bought Workman's grand champion for fifty cents a pound, a whopping good price for beef on foot—and that's no bull.

Workman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Workman of Cayce and was the owner of the grand champion shown in the beef calf show last year. At that time the district show was held in connection with the annual Farm Bureau picnic, but this year the Fulton County 4-H members and Future Farmers of America held their show independently.

The 27 calves in the show were all sold and brought an average of $31.84 per hundred weight. Other prize beef was purchased by the following:

Reelfoot Packing Co., Union City, bought the second place calf belonging to Adrain Workman also of Cayce at 37 cents cwt.

Third, fourth and fifth place winners were purchased by Batts Livestock Co., of Union City at 37 cents per cwt.; Kroger Grocery Co., at 36 cents and Reelfoot Packing Company at 35 cents.

One thing is sure, the folks at Cayce, Ky., have the edge on the winners. First and second place went to Ermon and Adrain Workman, brothers, and third, fourth and fifth place winners were owned by Tommie, Patricia and Charles Jones of Cayce and all of the same family.

A special commendation is due County Agent John Watts, Harold Shaw of Hickman and Eugene Waggoner for the outstanding work done with these young men and women in their cattle raising efforts.

The News Goes to a Picnic;

Nothing Like Barbecue To Make Folks Go A-Visiting

By Mary-Nelle Wright

(Ed's Note: Because of the Farm Bureau picnic, Mary Nelle's second installment on the new homes in the city will be continued next week.)

They were all there yesterday. Mamas, Papas, Uncles, Aunts, nieces, nephews—even dogs—met at the Fulton fairgrounds for the annual Fulton County Farm Bureau picnic. And, believe me, that affair had all the ingredients to make it the success that it was—fun, food and down-to-earth reunioning.

Really, it isn't surprising that this Farm Bureau Picnic has developed into one of the most successful and colorful annual events held anywhere near Fulton. It has come a "long way" since that day in the early '20's when first organized now the bureau claims some 754 members. Members can probably stretch their memories back to those early days and will be astounded at the way an organization such as this can grow to play the prominent part in the community that it plays.

Down through the years the names of such capable men as Ed Williamson, Charles Wright, H. J. French, Cecil Burnette, Roy Bard and others have become synonymous with Farm Bureau because of their active interest in the organization.

As we milled in and out among the throng before lunch was served we were happy to see many of our friends of "census taking" days. Among them were Mrs. Katie Cook and Mrs. N. F. Wilkerson who gave us a standing invitation for a chicken dinner at their homes in the near future. We saw Bonnie Mae Michael of Hickman for the first time since those census instruction days at the Fulton post office. Mrs. Irvin Bard was there and so were Fred and Bertie Brady, Ina and Ira Little, Mary Attebery and brother, Justin, Dr. R. V. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs.

Clardie Holland, David Nugent and C. A. Turner.

Joining in the celebration were Dr. Ward and Sara Bushart and their guests from Washington, D. C., Jack and Eula Stewart and that convivial Dr. Thomas Callahan and his lovely wife, Wilda. It was strictly a Fulton reunion for Thomas because as he says, "There's no place like the place where you were born and raised."

We were amused when we heard him let out a war-whoop when he saw Mrs. Blanche Williams, whom he hadn't seen for years and years and we are certain that Blanche was just that glad to see him, too. He was also reminiscing with Vivian McLanahan and her mother, Mrs. Lon Brown. Thomas says Mrs. Brown used to make the best sandwiches the Lord ever let a woman make. There was more talk with other old friends of his, too, including Wallace Koontz, Jamie Wade and Curtis Hancock. Yes, it was a good day for Tom.

We met Lee Roper and his little grandson carrying a plate to his wife, Blanche, soon after the line began to form for serving the dinner. And we DO mean it WAS a dinner—barbecued mutton and all. The mutton was prepared by that master of barbecuing, Walter Roberson of Union City, who certainly did justice to those 43 sheep.

The ladies of the Fulton County Homemakers Club spent a busy day serving. Among them were Mrs. Dean Collier who said 15 half bushels of tomatoes had been prepared. Mrs. Glelan Howell, Mrs. Clyde Corum, Mrs. Wayne Yates and Mrs. Jamie Wade were helping serve. Lon Brown was ever so busy dishing out the barbecue.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Burnette came prepared to enjoy a leisurely meal as they brought a card table and chairs. A fine idea, we think.

Jane Austin and her mother, Marguerite, were receiving compliments on the stylish little dress Jane had on display at the 4-H Club exhibit. Barney and Jerry Speight were looking for that barbecue. So were James Allen and Kathryn Willingham.

Big sisters were rolling little sisters in strollers while dads were riding their small fry "piggy back." J. O. Childress was carrying his little grandbaby who looked like an angel in his blue suit. Little girls in gay dresses of all colors and style tripped daintily around and were ever so careful not to "muss" their clothes. But the boys had no concern for clothes and were busy chasing each other playing tag. Blonde, curly haired little Marita Davis was sound asleep in her mother's arms.

Yes, it was a good day. As we left the shelter of those stately oaks we wondered if there was ever a more successful organization where real talk, real people and real happiness were the keynote for the day.

Council Is Working

Although the pre-meeting caucuses of the present City Council keep the city voters from listening in on some lively discussion about the future plans of the mayor and council members, there are some good plans and projects in the offing for local citizens.

For instance at the regular monthly council meeting on Monday an observer learned that these projects are in the planning stage:

1. Procurement of TVA for the city.
2. Extension of the city limits.
3. Procurement of a garbage disposal system.
4. Procurement of a sewage disposal system.

5. An early distribution of natural gas to the city.

All of these projects have been endorsed at sometime or other by the News publishers; in that respect we cannot be placed in the category referred to by our worthy competitors as thinking that Fulton is "stagnating."

People who talk of stagnation are usually in the "do-nothing" department and find themselves constantly reminded of their own inactivity by the odor that comes from their own stagnation.

In every community there are those who sit idly by and beat their chests in pride whenever somebody else does something worthwhile; they like to play like as how they did it themselves.

We like to remember the editor who says that a successful newspaper editor wakes up "mad 'n hell" every morning and beats out on his typewriter the necessity of making folks mad to get something done.

We certainly didn't make the present City Council mad by working with them on the above-named projects in an attempt to stir up enough interest so that they could get the reaction of their constituents.

Most people in Fulton want TVA, natural gas, the extension of the city limits and the score of other projects the Council is working on. We thought for a time that the private caucuses were a little un-Democratic in not letting people know what was going on in their city affairs department. But now we can see that all differences are ironed out before the meeting, and eliminates so much public dissension and grand-standing by individual Council members.

We'll admit we enjoyed the lively debate participated in by previous council members, but this way its business-like and in earnest. We hope that the Korean situation won't disrupt our all-veteran Council and we are certainly anxious to see them select another qualified veteran to fill the existing vacancy.

First District Governor

For folks who enjoy the fascinating game of politics there's always a present, past and future political race to talk about.

For instance now that the Senator's race is over, and Governor Earle Clements and former Federal Judge Charles Dawson have received the nominations of their respective parties, the pot for next year's Governor's race has started brewing.

For instance the News-Democrat of Russellville, Ky., which reached our desk this past week-end, even before the outcome of Saturday's primary, started the ball rolling for Emerson "Doc" Beauchamp for Governor. The paper said on August 4:

"BEAUCHAMP FOR GOVERNOR"

Secretary of State Glenn Hatcher Monday added to the rumors that Emerson Beauchamp might be the next Democratic candidate for governor, when he stated that he understood that Governor Earle C. Clements will support Beauchamp in the race. We believe, as do all Logan Counties, that no better selection could be made."

The statement by Hatcher that Clements would support Beauchamp could easily be labeled campaign talk, or even "mud-slinging" with the intent to confuse friends of both Clements and Beauchamp. Not knowing an awful lot about what goes on in the minds of the big time political operators, not that anybody does, we'd say right off hand that somewhere along the line Lt.-Governor Lawrence Weatherby might be in for some Clements support if he decides to make the gubernatorial race.

That's one side of the picture. Let's get close to home. It is our firm belief that the First District will offer a man to seek the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky. Of course, when the First District candidate is mentioned, one invariably thinks of Harry Lee Waterfield at Clinton, who made the race against Clements in 1947. Harry Lee was defeated in that race, but in his defeat we believe that he came out with the makings of a pretty strong State political organization.

The Clinton publisher's prestige over the State was further shown when he led the anti-Clements forces in the terrific fight to increase the State school appropriation. This latter incident brought forth a strong bond between Waterfield and the school forces over the State, who should support him in his race for Governor, if for nothing else but to see if he will follow through on his belief that the schools should have more funds.

But a little red bird told us that it is not out of reason that maybe Congressman Noble Gregory might seek the Kentucky Governorship. Mr. Gregory has been a safe and cautious congressman. He has been a staunch friend of the veterans and other large groups, and so far as we know, has not incurred any real animosity in any circles, unless its labor. The laboring vote thinks they were discriminated against when Gregory voted for the Taft-Hartley Act, but we believe he did so because he thought it was for the best interest of the laboring man; the Act is not intended to discriminate against the working man, but a law to keep dictatorial labor leaders from feathering their nests.

We hardly think that Gregory would oppose Waterfield, or vice versa, so if the two men could affect a happy combination it is entirely possible that the First District may claim a Governor in the not too distant future.

The chances look better in 1952 for this possibility than at any time in the past and frankly we'd like to see a sincere unity in bringing about this very desirable situation.

Men of Little Faith

The new president of the American Medical Association, Dr. Elmer L. Henderson of Louisville, touched on the true significance of the drive to socialize medicine when he said: "American medicine has become the blazing focal point in a fundamental struggle which may determine whether America remains free, or whether we are to become a Socialist State, under the yoke of a government bureaucracy dominated by selfish, cynical men who believe the American people are no longer competent to care for themselves."

"These men of little faith in the American people propose to place all our people, doctors and patients alike, under a shabby, Government-dictated medical system which they call Compulsory Health Insurance. But it is not just socialized medicine which they seek. Their real objective is to gain control over all fields of human endeavor—and to strip the American people of self-determination and self-government."

"There is only one essential difference between Socialism and Communism. Under State Socialism human liberty and human dignity die a little more slowly, but they die just as surely!"

In other words, socialized medicine is just a spoke in a wheel—part of the master plan for subjecting all our resources, energies and liberties to the government, the bureaucrat, and the politician. One by one, if this plan succeeds, other professions and enterprises will come in for the same treatment. That is the way dictatorships are insidiously established.

LOST - - - A WORD

I lost a cross word yesterday,
Unguarded, from my tongue;
It slipped into the atmosphere—
Then trouble had begun.

A dozen others followed it;
They filled the room with grief,
No matter then what word was said,
It could not bring relief.

If only I had stopped that word
Before it crossed my lips,
My day had been a happy one—
And sweet with fellowship.

I think I wasted yesterday,
Hurt self as well as friend,
Today I want to watch my words,
And let not one offend.

Dick Oberlin:

Oberlin's Observations

While we're worrying about the world situation, we might also do some thinking. And where any serious thinking is being done, this question frequently is heard:

"Why must the United States fight the Korean police action virtually alone? Why is it necessary for us to go onto a war-basis while other members of the United Nations, which are in this as much as the U. S., confine their contributions to minor troop units? Or, in the case of Britain, to some warships which were in the Far East when the Korean outbreak started?"

It is manifestly unfair of the world to expect the U. S. to keep its many nations on their economic feet, or help them back on to their feet, to fight a war which is the war of all the anti-Communist-nations, and to finance that endeavor, too.

In the first place, as rich as our country is no nation alone can prop up half the world over a long period of time and not need some economic transfusion itself. In the second place, the other nations of the world should not ask one member of the family to undertake such a huge task.

Of course, our action in Korea was the only possible one. It had to be taken. Our extension of a helping-hand to the rest of the world through the Marshall Plan is enlightened a self-interest. It also must be done.

But there should be some way the fantastic cost of wars can be handled without the world looking to the U. S. to shoulder the whole burden.

There seems to be on general answer to the thoughtful consideration of the many individuals who are pondering this question. That answer — in international police force — controlled, operated and responsible only to the United Nations.

As recently as six months ago, an international police force was still in the pipe-dream stage—the wishful thinking of the impractical. No country, probably, was willing to give up even the small part of its autonomy which establishment of such a force would entail. The Korean incident changed that.

We see not how swiftly wars can come. And, how they affect all of us. Today, action on an international police force, an army of all nations for the defense of all nations seems imperative to our future well being.

There would seem to be certain basic things which are intrinsic in such a proposal. Appropriations of both manpower and money, for example, should be on a basis fair to all. Assessments for both should be on an ability to spare and in relation to share.

It is quite likely that there would be tens of thousands of volunteers for such an armed force, probably hundreds of thousands. These should, by all means, be accepted. But, as a precautionary measure, no nation should be allowed to have more than a reasonable amount of the total manpower.

There should also be provision for any member of that force to withdraw in event his own nation was one made the object of the United Nations police action. This is simply precautionary.

It is not likely that good men will fight against their own land; therefore they will not be trustworthy members of even such an exalted army as an international army. These would not willingly invade their own nation as warriors even if, (as soldiers of an international force, with full access to all facts without propaganda, distortion) their nation was wrong in the thing which prompted the punitive action.

The establishment of an international police force is a virgin in the field of international philosophy. It will certainly encroach on the sovereignty of all nations to some extent.

But it is equally an immediate and urgent necessity, if the United Nations are to take the first timid steps out of what the cartoonists would have us believe is the "Idiot Era."

Sermonette Of The Week

Your Second Job - - -

As told in an interview to Fulton Oursler
By Dr. Albert Schweitzer

(Condensed from Reader's Digest, October 1949)

Often people say: "I would like to do some good in the world. But with so many responsibilities at home and in business, my nose is always to the grindstone. I am sunk in my own petty affairs, and there is no chance for my life to mean anything."

This is a common and dangerous error. In helpfulness to others every man can find on his own doorstep adventures for the soul—our surest source of true peace and lifelong satisfaction. To know this happiness, one does not have to neglect duties or do spectacular things.

This career for the spirit I call "your second job". In this there is no pay except the privilege of doing it. In it you will encounter noble chances and find a deep strength. Here all your power can be put to work, for what the world lacks most today is men who occupy themselves with the needs of other men. In this unselfish labor a blessing falls on both the helper and the helped.

Without such spiritual adventures the man or woman today walks in darkness. In the pressures of modern society we tend to lose our individuality. Our craving for creation and self-expression is stifled; true civilization is to that extent retarded.

What is the remedy? No matter how busy one is, any human being can assert his personality by seizing every opportunity for spiritual activity. How? By his second job: by means of personal action, on however small a scale, for the good of his fellow men. He will not have to look far for opportunities.

Our greatest mistake, as individuals, is that we walk through our life with closed eyes and do not notice our chances. As soon as we open our eyes and deliberately search we see many who need help, not in big things but in the little things. Wherever a man turns he can find someone who needs him.

One day I was traveling through Germany in a third-class railway carriage beside an eager youth who sat as if looking for something unseen. Facing him was a fretful and plainly worried old man. Presently the lad remarked that it would be dark before we reached the nearest large city.

"I don't know what I shall do when we get there," said the old man anxiously; "my only son is in the hospital, very ill. I had a telegram to come at once. I must see him before he dies. But I am from the country and I'm afraid I shall get lost in the city." To which the young man replied, "I know the city well: I will get off with you and take you to your son. Then I will catch a later train."

Who can assay the effect of that small deed? You, too, can watch for the little things that need to be done.

Dear Patricia:
I have written you before but didn't see my letter or answer in the paper.
I have been married and have four children, do you think I will ever get a divorce from my husband and if so, when?
I have a friend I think a lot of do you think he thinks as much of me as I do him? Will we ever marry? I have a daughter expecting a baby in September. What do you think it will be or will it be twins?
I am expecting some changes in my life between now and Christmas. Do you think it will be for the best?
I thought this man I think so much of was going with my girl friend one time when I was away. Did he or not? How long will I live in the town I am now living it? Will I make a long move when I move?

If you know what is best for me to do please tell me. I want to do what is best for my child I have with me. Will she marry before I marry again? If not, will my next husband be good to her. Thanks a lot.
A friend, E. W.
Dear E. W.:
Yes you will get a divorce in the next few months. Yes, this man is in love with you and would ask you to marry him if you were free to do so. Your daughter will have twins a boy and a girl; the changes will be for the best. No, he didn't go with your girl friend but she liked him, you will live there for some time. When you move it will be about 200 miles from where you now are. No your daughter will not marry before you do but will marry within 90 days after you do. But this man would be good to her.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

YOU can see this man has made his mark in life, and while his heart's still young.

You can tell he likes action for his money—that he knows a fine car needn't be the most expensive to give the greatest value.

Yes, such are the things you know of any man, when you note that his car is a ROADMASTER.

Follow him on his spirited way as he pilots this lively motorcar through traffic. Even the lightweights are no match for this road-steady husky—not with the 152-horsepower straight-eight Fireball engine that purrs beneath its bonnet.

Maneuver beside him at the next stop light. Then just try to get away as smoothly, swiftly and silently as Dynaflo Drive gets his ROADMASTER going—and keeps it rolling without shifting, even automatically.

But don't waste time merely envying the man in this great car! Why not emulate him?

With all its outsize room, interior luxury and exterior grace—with all its front-rank prestige, rare performance and matchless ride—a ROADMASTER can be yours for less than some smaller cars cost.

In fact, even if you had a fortune to spend, you couldn't make a more fortunate buy in the fine-car field.

So we suggest you try a few minutes behind the wheel. We're confident they will convince you that ROADMASTER has everything you could ever ask for in any motorcar—although your Buick dealer asks a good bit less for ROADMASTER than you might pay for other top-line cars.

BARBARA ROSE COLLEY
HONORED AT COCA-COLA
PARTY TUESDAY MORNING

Another beautifully planned party in the series of pre-nuptial affairs honoring Miss Barbara Rose Colley, bride-elect of Connie W. Adams of Lake City, Florida, was the Coca-Cola party given by Mrs. F. A. Homra and Miss Barbara Homra Tuesday morning at their home on Norman Street. Miss Homra will be a bridesmaid in the Colley Adams wedding.

A color scheme of yellow and green was carried out in the flowers which were used profusely in the living and dining rooms. The dining table, from which rainbow hued sandwiches, Cokes, and other dainties were served, was draped with a Made-in cloth and held a centerpiece of Esterite daisies. Mrs. Jack Moore and Miss Shirley Houston assisted the hostesses in serving.

AUSTIN SPRINGS

Mrs. Carey Fields and Mr. and Mrs. John Smoot of Akron, Ohio are vacationing here and in Mayfield where they are house guest of their brother, Coy Smoot and family.

Mrs. Watson has returned home after several days with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cherry. The baptismal service from Salem Baptist church was held at Sprout's levee Sunday afternoon by Rev. Alton Perry. Six candidates were immersed as results of recent summer revival.

On next Saturday August 12 is the annual meet at Maragan cemetery, when those who are interested assemble to meet expense of the up keep. D. A. Mathis has been the caretaker for the past year and a neat job has been done which speaks for itself. Any contribution will certainly be appreciated by the committee in charge of funds.

Time of meeting is 10 a. m. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bennett of Huntington, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Donoho of Mayfield, Ky., visited relatives here Saturday and attended the annual meet at Acree cemetery.

Mrs. Fred Farmer is suffering from arthritis and confined to her bed for a portion of time.

Saturday, August 5 many gathered at Acree cemetery to accept work and pay dues to the caretaker, D. A. Mathis. Here-tofore a memorial service was held by some visiting minister at 11 o'clock, but at this meeting no service was held. This is another well kept cemetery and many still pay a tribute to loved ones who rest in the city of dead.

Mrs. Ralph Doran is reported to be some better from an attack of kidney colic, from which she suffered the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fields spent the weekend in Paducah, Ky. where they were house guest of children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mitchell, Clay Street.

Dear Sir:

Steve Brannon Clark of Detroit was visiting his aunt, Mrs. Joe Wall, on her farm in Cayce. Being a city boy, Steve didn't know much about cows. He was chewing gum one evening when he went with the family to milk and after observing the cows for several minutes, he pointed to one chewing her cud, and remarked brightly, "Mommmy, do cows chew gum, too?"

Scientific Squeeze Play

To check the freshness of Kroger bread, Food Foundation scientists test its "crumb compressibility." That's scientific talk for squeezing the loaf to see how fresh it is. As a result of their scientific squeezing, Kroger scientists have come up with a bread that's softer and better tasting than ever before. Through constant research and practical tests continued progress is made on the quality of Kroger products.

mail, and the season's averages show the result.

By winning Tuesday night's ball game, the Railroaders have cinched another club in the season. They have beaten Jackson nine out of fifteen (at this writing) with only one more game scheduled for the season. In the completed series up to the present time, Fulton has taken Owensboro ten out of seventeen, tied Hopkinsville eight out of sixteen starts, taken Madisonville nine out of seventeen, and they hold a sufficient lead over Cairo (eight out of ten) to win the series if they can take at least two more out of eight with the Dodgers.

On the other side of the ledger, Fulton is trailing Mayfield, having won only four out of ten. Still in question is the series between the Greyhounds and the Railroaders. While Fulton has won seven out of twelve, the Greyhounds, although deep in seventh place and eighteen games behind the Railroaders, are always a threat to the safety of the Fulton boys and there are still eight games remaining to be played between these clubs.

Fulton's Billy Joe Forrest entered his home town park at a very good time. Billy Joe, while not a heavy slugger, has the habit of sneaking a double or triple down the wrong base line (according to the opposing team's outfielders) just when we need a run or two. In his shortstop position, he has figured in numerous double plays and has been a help to the Railroaders infield. Keep it up, Glory.

Like a good riddle? When are the opposing pitchers going to get Big Ned's number? The season is getting mighty late. Last May, one of the radio announcers said that it might be around the first of June before they got wise to him. I noticed, however, that Ned hit two homers in this gentleman's park last week. Maybe he meant May, 1951 or 1952.

Huge Calvacade Welcomes Home Vice-Pres. Barkley

A cavalcade of automobiles, which may stretch the entire 20 miles from Murray to Mayfield, has been arranged for the "Homecoming" of Vice President Alben W. Barkley and Mrs. Barkley, who will be honored guests of Mr. Barkley's home county of Graves at the Purchase District Fair in Mayfield on Friday, Aug. 18.

Invited guests from Fulton are: Mr. and Mrs. Bob White, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Freeman, Dr. and Mrs. Ward Bushart and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westpheling.

The motorcade, growing by leaps and bounds as acceptances are received in Mayfield from nearly every section of Kentucky, will leave a breakfast party honoring Vice-President and Mrs. Barkley at the Irvin Cobb Hotel in Paducah, at approximately 11:30 a. m. and will proceed to Mayfield via Benton and Murray. The motorcade will be joined by other motorists in Paducah, Benton and Murray.

Heading the Graves County motorcade committee will be former County Judge W. H. Crowder, Jr., and he will be assisted by Robert Seay, Sheriff Bob Westerfield, and Chief of Police Jesse Phipps, and Sergeant Millard Sharp of the State Highway Patrol.

Motorcade committees from the various towns to be represented in the parade include George Hart, Dr. Ralph Woods and Zeller Carter of Murray; George Long, Pont Nelson and Louan Trevelthan, of Benton; Bob Phillips and Irvin Hughes of Wickliffe; Jerry Porter and Harry Lee Waterfield of Clinton; Claude

Freeman and Bob White of Fulton; Jimmy Payne of Bardwell; Smith Broadbent, Jr., of Cadiz; Ernest Lackey and Phil Chappell of Hopkinsville; George Mosley and Rhodes K. Myers of Bowling Green; Mayor C. T. Mabry, Judge E. J. Stahr and Justin Attebery of Hickman; Lawrence Hager and Fred Weir of Owensboro; Joe LaGore, Ray Mullins and Donald Farrington of Paducah, Dr. W. M. Coffee of Lancaster; Rube Marshall of Eddyville; Hecht Lackey, Henderson, and Thomas Rhea, Jr., Russellville.

Adron Doran, a Graves County tian and speaker of the House at the last session of the Kentucky legislature, will serve as master of ceremonies at the fair here that afternoon. Vice President and Mrs. Barkley will be introduced by Governor Clements.

Huge Electrical Show Is Planned for August 19th.

A huge traveling Electrical Exposition will hold a free one-day showing in Clinton, Ky., on Aug. 19, it was announced today by Harold Everett, manager of the Hickman-Fulton Co-Op.

This Exposition, biggest of its kind ever seen in this area, will feature nationally known entertainment, free prizes, actual demonstrations of farm and home electric equipment, and display of modern electric appliances.

Clinton, Ky., is one of 50 stops the Exposition will make in Tennessee Valley communities this summer and fall. Site of the showing here is 3 miles south of Clinton, Ky., on Highway 51.

Among the top-flight attractions are General Motors' famed "Previews of Progress," a remarkable program showing jet propulsion in action, the making of synthetic rubber, a cold stove that cooks, and other exciting scientific wonders. It was seen last year by more than 1,500,000 school age children.

Then there's General Electric's renowned "Junior," a walking, talking refrigerator that's world famous. "Junior" walks, talks, dances, answers questions, and does amazing stunts.

Philco's crowd-catching puppet show designed to entertain the young and old alike, will be on hand. It has been seen in large cities throughout the United States.

Crosley has a complete animated kitchen. The electric appliances in a modern kitchen actually open and shut their doors.

A feature of the night showing will be a spectacular "black light" demonstration and a dream parade of electric appliances. Music will be provided by Buck Turner and his Buckaroos.

He explained that there's something special for the rural people—a complete electrified farm, with electric farm equipment actually being demonstrated by expert agricultural engineers. Included are a model Grade A dairy, a poultry house, feed grinding and processing equipment, a farm workshop, and the most valuable of all—an electric water system.

The Exposition, sponsored by the Tennessee Valley Public Power Association, is appearing in parts of Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Mississippi, running until November 1.

PUBLIC HEALTH TOPICS

Today we want to tell you the story of Johnny. At the age of six months Johnny was as healthy a baby as you would want to see. However, by the time he reached his second birthday he was not progressing properly. He lacked pep, had lost his appetite and seemed to be growing weaker.

His mother was worried about him and took him to the family physician. The doctor diagnosed Johnny's trouble as anemia and inquired what the mother was feeding him. When he learned that Johnny was still living on a diet of chiefly milk, he pointed out that a growing child of two needs certain vegetables, fruits and meats. He showed the mother by charts that the child should have all these things daily, beginning early in infancy.

He also pointed out the need for periodic check-ups. Prenatal and infant care are necessary if a child is to get a good start in life, but a child needs continuing care.

Johnny's mother now gives him an adequate diet—one which is based on his age and his needs. Johnny is thriving on it. His mother realizes that he should have had continued health supervision from birth through school age and takes him in for a check-up periodically.

Cases like Johnny's are all too frequent in our state, but they can be prevented. For those who do not have a family physician, child health conference held in communities throughout Kentucky are finding many such cases in the early stages when treatment can be most effective. Parents are being urged to avail themselves of the opportunities offered by such clinics. This is one of the many services rendered by the Fulton County Health Unit. In carrying out this particular program, the Division of Maternal and Child Health, Kentucky State Department of Health, makes available its technical help and guidance.

Mississippi Plantation Life:
The Writings Of Mattie Dear

The Lord is my shepherd and I shall not want and O give thanks unto the Lord for He is good. My health is fine but I am yet torn up in mind.

I has a fine crop of cotton, corn, potatoes and peas and the Lord sure is sending good seasons on it but my peaches isn't much. My fig tree are full but I had bad luck with my chickens but you can't be the same at all times.

I went no place to service Sunday. I got disappointed. Someone promised to come and take me but they fail to come that is all in life. I sure knead the prayers of all the good peoples but I can tell you this; we are living in a dangerous time. Peoples are dieing all sorts of ways.

I am 65 years old and I have never seen times like this. I seems like every thing is in a hurry and sin is growing so bold and it takes prayers to settle the minds of people. Near everything you see is in a hurry. But by and by the sower will be over. Taken for the cause it is good to sow good seeds.

I sure like Mrs. Johanna's paper. I let other people read it and sure are fond of it. I sits in my back door and see the cars running in full speed. It sure seems like the people are going crazy but I sure like this one thing; earnest — I knead but it look like peoples has forgot God but I done like this. I remembered my Creator in the days of my youth. I got a letter from Mrs. Mattie Bernhard. She sure wrote me a sweet letter and sent me two of her pamphlets so here is one of her verses. Subject: I Could not do Without Him.

Jesus is more to me,
Than all the richest fairest gifts
Of Earth could ever be,
But the more I find him precious
And the more I find him true,
The more I long for you to find;
What he could do for you.

Absent At The Wrong Time

Less than half of the 435 members of the U. S. House of Representatives were present to vote on the large majority of motions connected with the 1951 General Appropriation Bill when it was before the House this Spring.

Sometimes as few as one-seventh of the members voted. One amendment to increase a pork-barrel item carried by a vote of 32 to 29. A motion to cut the RFC appropriation lost 69 to 65. Of 35 motions to cut appropriations, only 10 carried. A majority of the remaining 25 lost out by less than 20 votes.

50% OF PARITY IS COTTON PENALTY

Chas. E. Wright, Chairman, Fulton County PMA Committee, stated today that they had just received the rate of penalty for cotton grown in excess of the 1950 cotton allotment and for cotton produced without an allotment. Cotton Marketing Quotas provide that the rate of penalty shall be fifty per cent of the parity price for cotton as of June 15, 1950. The parity price on that date was 31c per pound, therefore, the rate of penalty shall be 15.5c per pound for the excess.

Mr. Wright announced that the rate of penalty for excess tobacco for the 1950-51 marketing year shall be forty per cent of the average market price for the preceding market year. The average price for burley was 45.8c in 1949; the penalty rate will be 18c per pound. Fire-cured tobacco averaged 29.8c per pound in 1949; the penalty rate for 1950 will be 12c per pound. Dark air-cured averaged 27.8c per pound in 1949; the penalty rate will be 11c per pound for 1950.

BOMB PLANT TALKED FOR KENTUCKY LAKE

The Clarksville Chamber of Commerce has written civic organizations in 11 surrounding towns, asking their support in a campaign to have the proposed $300,000,000 hydrogen bomb plant constructed on Kentucky Lake.

According to C. H. Warren, secretary of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, local support of the project was not sought.

The land which the Clarksville club suggests is on the east side of Kentucky Lake between the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers. It begins at the mouth of White Oak Creek in Houston County, Tenn., and runs north 40 miles to Canton, Tenn.

The tract of land contains approximately 249,000 acres and averages 12 miles between the two rivers. It is estimated that the plant would employ more persons than the atom bomb plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn., which now employs more than 40,000 per-

WELL ADVERTISED QUADS: The four famous Holstein calves born on the Howard Milam Farm on West State Line are here shown again in another picture taken four days after their birth. This and other pictures have appeared in the Memphis Commercial Appeal, the Paducah Sun, Democrat, and in 62 counties of Kentucky, and a story in currently being released in national Breeding Ass'n. The men in the above picture are, (l to r) Howard Milam, owner; Dewey Johnson, artificial breeding technician and Dr. Connaughton, veterinarian, who assisted at the delivery. The Quads proved to be the outstanding attraction at the Fulton Fair, where they were on exhibit.

IZAACK WALTON NEVER DREAMED OF SUCH FISHING AS NOW ENJOYED ON KY. LAKE

Frankfort, Ky., July 21 — "Old Fish as they made preparations for the expected mid-summer bonanza of bass and crappie. With the season's hottest days coming on, lake experts are touting local and out-of-state fishermen to the fast waters below Kentucky Lake where exceptional catches of crappie have been recorded in the past two weeks. Camp attendants say that better than good strings of bass and crappie have been taken in the last 10 to 12 days on surface lures and minnows. Should the weather remain fair, bass fishing is expected to hit its peak in the next two weeks.

Pointing out that during this time of year most lakes become poor fishing spots, experts assure anglers that catches in Kentucky Lake should not diminish. Game fish, throughout most of the summer months, seek to avoid hot surface water by lying idle in the deepest holes, thereby limiting the effectiveness of bait fishing and casting. However, Kentucky Lake offers an alternative.

DRAFT BOARD TO CALL 2,938 SOON

Draft Boards in Kentucky have been ordered to summon 2,938 prospective draftees for screening for Army duty between now and August 31.

Col. Solon Russell, State director of Selective Service, said it was believed this number would provide the 426-man quota by September 13 for Army service from Kentucky.

But if it doesn't, more will be summoned for the pre-induction examinations.

Thirteen Intercounty Draft boards must supply the following number for screening: Barren, Allen, Monroe, 70; Breckinridge, Hancock, Meade, 16; Caldwell, Crittenden, Lyon, 32; Carroll, Henry, Trimble, 55; Gallatin, Boone, Owen, 38; Hickman, Carlisle, Fulton, 25; McCracken, Ballard, Livingston, 56; Mason Bracken, Robertson, 33; Mercer, Boyle, Woodford, 22; Nelson, Bullitt, 47; Powell, Menifee, Wolfe, 9; Shelby, Anderson, Oldham, 47 and Warren, Butler, Edmonson, 70.

KOREAN VETERANS MAY FILE CLAIMS

The Kentucky Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board wishes to call to the attention of United States Servicemen, who were called into action in Southern Korea, the fact that they will be entitled to disability compensation for injuries or disease arising out of the "Korean War". These claims will be adjusted by the Veterans Administration under the provisions of Public Law 359, 77th Congress. Under this law provision is made for the payment of disability compensation and death compensation at war time rates if the disability or death resulted from an injury received in line of duty:

1. As a direct result of armed conflict, or
 2. While engaged in extra hazardous service, including such service under conditions simulating war.
- Disability compensation for injury or disease incurred in line of duty in the Korean Expedition

BILL OF HARRIS FORK

A very, very smart man; Paul had the picture of a bull at the top of my column last issue.

Bumped into two panhandlers on Browder's crossing. "Gimmie a dime for a cup of coffee. I'm trying to get to Korea to fight the Communists."

"Heck, you don't need to go to Korea, here's the Bus fare to Union City, scram."

The other guy sez, "I am from Detroit and I have been all over this burg trying to get a dry biscuit or even some ham and eggs but nothing doing."

"Here's two bits get the drink you crave and you catch the rear end of your buddy's bus and look out for the cops 'cause they'll put you to work. Union City cops are just swell at giving 'hand-outs' but not the kind you are looking for."

My little Misses just will not be satisfied till I build a 'lean-to' on our bed room with a tin roof on it so she can listen to the rain drops pattering. Gosh, bad enough now.

I wouldn't be able to get her up for lunch, then.

She'll be going into politics next or making pumpkin pies.

by a bee—a bumble bee?

If so you out that bee to a lot of trouble because he uses twenty two different muscles in the operation. So it is any wonder that when you go fishing—get tired—sit down to rest and a nasty ole bumble bee opens up his operating kit and proceeds to examine your innards without benefit of an anesthetic, or pretty nurse to smooth your brow and not even a mint julep to cool your disposition?

Well, I have, and there is a Dr.

in Los Angeles who has the nerve to tell us stung ones that a bee, a mosquito or a hornet likes you if he gets his stinger into you.

HE SHOULD, when he can fly off to one side and gloat over your misery. I just don't care for that brand of LOVE.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

This question and answer feature is designed to inform the public regarding polio and precautions which may be taken as safeguards. The material is prepared by the Kentucky Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis medical advisory committee from questions most frequently asked about polio.

If polio strikes: Call your doctor; keep the patient in bed, notify your local health authority. If help is needed telephone collect, the "Kentucky Crippled Children Commission, at Clay 4438 in Louisville. Remember the Kentucky Chap., National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will furnish aid to the extent aid is needed.

Q.—What are the signs or symptoms of polio?

A.—Polio starts in different ways, but look out for these danger signals: headache, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, and fever. Other symptoms may include nervousness, dizziness, an irritable feeling, stiff neck and back, and difficulty in swallowing and breathing.

Q.—What is the usual period between the time of contact with polio virus and the time symptoms can be noticed?

A.—This is called the incubation period, and the time has not been definitely established. Many persons may contact the polio virus and never suffer from the disease, but if a person is going to develop polio the incubation period usually, given is seven to fourteen days.

Q.—After an illness has been diagnosed as polio, what is the period that the patient should be isolated?

A.—For one week from the time the patient became ill, or for as long as fever continues even if this is longer than one week.

Q.—What restrictions need to be imposed on contacts in efforts to avoid the polio germ?

A.—None. Wherever polio occurs, the number of healthy carriers—persons who carry the germ unknowingly but are not sick—is very high. Therefore it does not seem reasonable to restrict the movements of members of the family who may not be carriers and to allow other healthy carriers in the community to mingle freely.

Q.—How is polio spread?

A.—In the state of our present knowledge this cannot be entirely answered. Medical evidence gathered through research suggests that close association with infected persons accounts for a large proportion of the cases. Frequently these contacts are made with persons who, though infected, are not sick. Although flies may be contaminated with the polio virus, there is no reliable evidence from the polio research program of the community spread of polio by insects, water, food or even by sewage.

Q.—How long does the virus remain in the human body?

A.—Available evidence indicates that the most severe (bulbar) type of polio is more common in persons who have recently had an operation in the head region, that is, such operations as removal of tonsils, adenoids, and teeth. Therefore, it is advisable to discourage operations of the nose, throat, and mouth regions in children and young adults during the periods of the greatest prevalence of polio.

Q.—May cases of polio be admitted to general hospitals?

A.—Yes. Any polio case can be treated in any hospital ward or room if the patient is properly isolated to prevent the disease from spreading. Special nurses are not required for care. In case you or your family have symptoms of polio, call your doctor immediately.

Q.—What facilities are there for the treatment of polio cases?

A.—Hospitals, including those

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

AVOID NEW GROUPS

DON'T GET OVERTIRED

DON'T GET CHILLED

KEEP CLEAN

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

A.—Polio virus has been recovered from the throat for only a few days after the patient first became ill. The virus has been obtained from the feces as early as two weeks before the patient became sick; and for a varying period afterward.

Q.—What is the age distribution of polio?

A.—There has been a gradual shift to an older age group until the term infantile paralysis is no longer exactly descriptive of the disease. Many adults were stricken during the 1949 epidemic in Kentucky and throughout the nation, but children one to sixteen years of age are more frequently attacked than adults.

Q.—Are there any specific measures which can be taken in order to prevent polio?

A.—Unfortunately, no. But general measures of hygiene should be followed, especially in avoiding over-fatigue or chilling. It should be kept in mind that during periods of high prevalence of polio in a community, the prevalence of infection also is great. Only a small fraction of the people infected may be clinically sick. For every known case there are estimated to be between 1 and 100 individuals with infections which are not apparent. Cleanliness is important. Wash with soap and water before eating and after using the toilet.

Q.—Is there a relationship between tonsillectomy and polio?

A.—Available evidence indicates that the most severe (bulbar) type of polio is more common in persons who have recently had an operation in the head region, that is, such operations as removal of tonsils, adenoids, and teeth. Therefore, it is advisable to discourage operations of the nose, throat, and mouth regions in children and young adults during the periods of the greatest prevalence of polio.

ities believe that pregnant women take the disease more readily than non-pregnant women, however. There need be no fear of the disease harming the unborn child.

Q.—Is there a relation between activity and the serious form of polio?

A.—Doctors have found that over-tiredness may influence the development of polio and the extent of its damage to the body. It is wise, therefore, to prevent children from becoming over-tired during the polio season. This does not mean, however, that the normal activity of the child should be restricted or that he should be deprived of good, clean exercise. It merely means that he should not overdo it to the extent that he is exhausted.

Q.—Should children be kept out of schools, nurseries, etc., during the polio season?

A.—No. Since experience does not indicate that the closing of schools causes an outbreak of polio to decrease, nor does it show the opening of schools causes it to increase, there is no good medical reason to keep children out of school. Because it has been indicated that over-tiredness is related to a person's catching polio, it is wise that care be taken in school athletic programs and physical education that students are not given too severe amount of exercise.
